I Have A Dream Foundation - Colorado

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - Program Service Accomplishments

The Colorado "I Have a Dream" Foundation (CIHAD) was founded in 1988 to address the deep and persistent inequities in our state's educational system that left children from low-income and disadvantaged families with the fewest resources to achieve their dreams. Almost all published research points to the link between childhood poverty and low educational achievement; what researchers disagree on is how to address this challenge. Our contention has always been - and research bears this out - that when children from underserved families have equal access to the same high quality education and social support afforded their more affluent peers, they too can succeed. The results demonstrate the validity of our model: Typically, 85-90 percent of Dreamers graduate high school and pursue a college degree or vocational school, whereas only 51% of DPS students from the class of 2017-2018 are enrolled in college (Colorado Department of Education).

For 26 years CIHAD operated under the model of adopting classes of 3rd grade students from multiple schools. While the model was successful, challenges arose as children changed schools and the cohorts became smaller and more fragmented. In the fall of 2014, CIHAD entered into a partnership with the STRIVE Preparatory Network to implement the whole school model at Ruby Hill Elementary School in the Ruby Hill neighborhood of SW Denver. We added one grade each year, and now work with 517 elementary school children and their families, as we prepare to extend the whole school model to Dreamers in Federal Middle School, which shares our campus. Although we have transitioned to the whole school model, we remain fully committed to the success of those 143 Dreamers in college, vocational school, the military, and the workforce.
